

Canine Health Symposium

Saturday, April 6, 2019

Attention all Pet Owners- Dog Enthusiasts- Exhibitors – Breeders

Plan on attending another informative symposium sponsored by The Great Dane Club of Lehigh Valley!

If you love your dog, don't miss this opportunity to learn more about the newest treatments available.

Also, you probably have not heard of Chagas, but it has migrated to our area from the south. Learn now about this deadly disease.

The symposium will be held at Caitlyn & Cody's Diner located at 1907 John Fries Hwy in Quakertown, PA on April 6, 2019. The diner is located across from the Quakertown exit of the North East Extension of the Pennsylvania turnpike on Route 663 (also known as John Fries Highway). Check in will be from 8:15 AM to 9:10 AM. The cost of $40/person includes a continental breakfast and a buffet lunch.

Speakers Include

- Dr. Morgan Agnew, VMD, DACT 9:15 AM – 12:15 PM

Dr. Morgan Agnew, VMD, DACT graduated from the University of Pennsylvania School of Veterinary Medicine in 2013. Following graduation, she spent two years at Rood and Riddle Equine Hospital in the ambulatory department, spending a majority of her time managing pregnant mares, foals and yearlings.

In July of 2017, she completed a two year residency in reproduction at the University of Pennsylvania and became board certified in theriogenology.

Dr. Roy Madigan DVM is a 2001 graduate of the Texas A&M University College of Veterinary Medicine. He has been serving the Spring Branch/Bulverde community (a suburb of San Antonio, TX) for over 15 years now; focusing on small animal companion animals, specifically allergic skin diseases and reproduction. He spends some time each year pursuing his love for marine mammals in various locations around the world. Currently, he is working internationally on a canine and human treatment for chronic Chagas disease. Dr Madigan loves to scuba dive, cook, and stay active with running.

On behalf of the Great Dane Club of Lehigh Valley, we want to thank everyone who participated in the survey of what topics were of interest to them.
